Opening Doors to Partnerships in LAM

Cary Gillis, Director of Latin American Missions

Latin American Missions

is about relationships. We nurture our relationships and leverage them to form partnerships purposed to seize gospel opportunities. In my short nine months with LAM, I have become acquainted with so many people that it's like drinking from a firehose. As over-whelming and taxing as it has been on my brain to keep all these brethren straight, I have realized that this "burden" is one of the greatest blessings of my life. While the hub of this vast ministry is the Bible School of the Americas, the work is only sustained by the collaborative effort of fellow workers throughout the United States and Latin America. Students come from many countries to be trained and equipped at the BSA and then return to their home countries to begin their new ministries. During their time at the school and after they leave, we invest in relationships with them so that we can aid in their ministries and connect them with supporting partners.

Rafael Paguaga works with me as the Director of Alumni Relations. He helps me stay connected with the lives and ministries of our BSA alumni. Rafael recently sent out a thorough survey with the goal of updating our alumni records and assessing the state of the Church in several countries. Their feedback is informing us how we can help their ministries and how we can mold the curriculum at the Bible School of the Americas and equip ministers to grapple with the evolving landscape of challenges that face the Church.

In this issue of our newsletter, we are focusing on the various countries in which we have BSA alumni. We have invited a key man from each country to give a snapshot of the state of the Church, their various works and ministries, and the unique obstacles the brethren face there. My hope is that you will be introduced to faithful brothers who will bless your life just as they have blessed mine. Perhaps, this introduction will open the door to relationships that grow into ministry partnerships.

We invite your partnership, as we seize these GOSPEL OPPORTUNITIES together.

"DECLARE HIS GLORY AMONG THE NATIONS, HIS MARVELOUS WORKS AMONG ALL THE PEOPLES!" PSALM 96:3

“I Give My Grain of Sand to This!”

Rafael Paguaga, BSA Alumni Relations

There is no greater work than what Jesus did for all of us. A sinless man dying for us will help us understand how little we often do for others. I love saying that because, we often use the expression in Central and South America, “I give my grain of sand to this!” in reference to when we work in one way or another with a great cause.

My role in Latin American Missions involves cultivating relationships with alumni of the Bible School of the Americas. That begins with meeting them as they travel from their home countries and arrive at our preaching school facilities. During the first week of the school’s program, I administer tests of personality traits and intelligence to our new students which allows our staff to learn about each one of them in their capacities, interests, talents, strengths, and weaknesses. It also helps us get to know the new group as a whole, allowing us to understand what we should aim for as we teach them the Bible in order to help them grow to the likeness of Jesus. I also cultivate these relationships as I teach them a Bible course. Our time together in the classroom contributes infinitely to this new relationship.

As they graduate and leave the school, my role is to keep in touch with them. I meet with them through the computer and figure a good time to get them enrolled in my courses. I give them time to prepare themselves and be able to teach something from a real-world experience to our current students every year based upon the book or subject we are discussing in class. I talk to them through social media. Sometimes they’re going through a hard time, not having financial support to carry out the work they planned. Sometimes they lose a loved one. Occasionally, I meet with them and work together in a campaign.

The alumni share with me their input about what would be good for the school to teach and share with the new generations. I share this with our brother, Kirk Brothers, Director of Curriculum at BSA. When information is needed for the newsletter, I program a time to meet with them and listen to their plans, their needs, and their concerns. Sometimes, they ask for some advice on how to develop certain topics in their congregations.

Our alumni will nominate a candidate to come to the school and help them complete the application. I’ve been blessed to facilitate a one-day program of training they can give to someone that’s coming to the school. They teach them to use a computer, write an essay, and create a PowerPoint. Sometimes I just listen to their heartbreaking needs and cry on the phone. I’m blessed beyond measure to help and serve these great men in all Central and South America.

The Lord Working Through Us... Becoming a Blessing

Don Garner, Elder @ Forrest Park, Valdosta, Georgia

In December 2016 my wife and I attended graduation at the Bible School of the Americas. Little did we know how God would place Jimmy Harvin, the 2016 Honor Graduate, in our lives. After graduation Jimmy and his family traveled back home to Jinotepe, Nicaragua. For over two years he assisted preachers in nearby towns, but his desire to establish a doctrinally sound congregation in his hometown led Jimmy and his family to begin meeting for worship in their home in January 2020.

Our Omniscient God had a plan. My wife, Theresa, had become friends with Jimmy on social media. In September 2020 Jimmy sent Theresa a text with warm greetings and a sincere plea for assistance. The church had increased in members and visitors, and the side room in their house was not big enough to accommodate everyone. They needed a larger building with kitchen facilities and rooms for children's Bible classes. He wrote, "The majority of brothers in the church are very poor and need our help. They can't give their preacher a salary, and many times I have to do carpentry work to pay for my expenses." We had no idea their needs were so great, and we agreed to help!

Before attending BSA, Jimmy worked in Finances. So, within a few days he created a spreadsheet of items needed in order to furnish a rental place for the twenty members to gather. The funds were donated and sent, and on January 3, 2021 they worshiped God there for the first time. Since that inaugural service, the church has continued to grow under Jimmy's ministry. As other needs arise, we continue to donate funds for growth. The items needed have included a laptop for work, study and communication and a motorcycle for transportation. Previously, Jimmy and his family walked everywhere. In November 2022, Jimmy wrote: "Everyday life is becoming more difficult...increasing prices on food products, fuel, health, educational fees, and we have to deprive ourselves of buying many necessary things due to lack of money." This same message comes from other preachers, too.

"May God bless his faithful Saints; it will be a great joy to meet in eternity."

Church of Christ in Jinotepe, Nicaragua - 2023

We are thankful to God for choosing us to assist Jimmy in his work of preaching the Gospel in Nicaragua. His family is a wonderful example of what is possible in Latin America when all spiritual hearts are focused on God and His purpose for our lives.

Contact Cary Gillis today if you or your congregation desire to form a partnership with a preacher in Central or South America. BECOME A BLESSING!

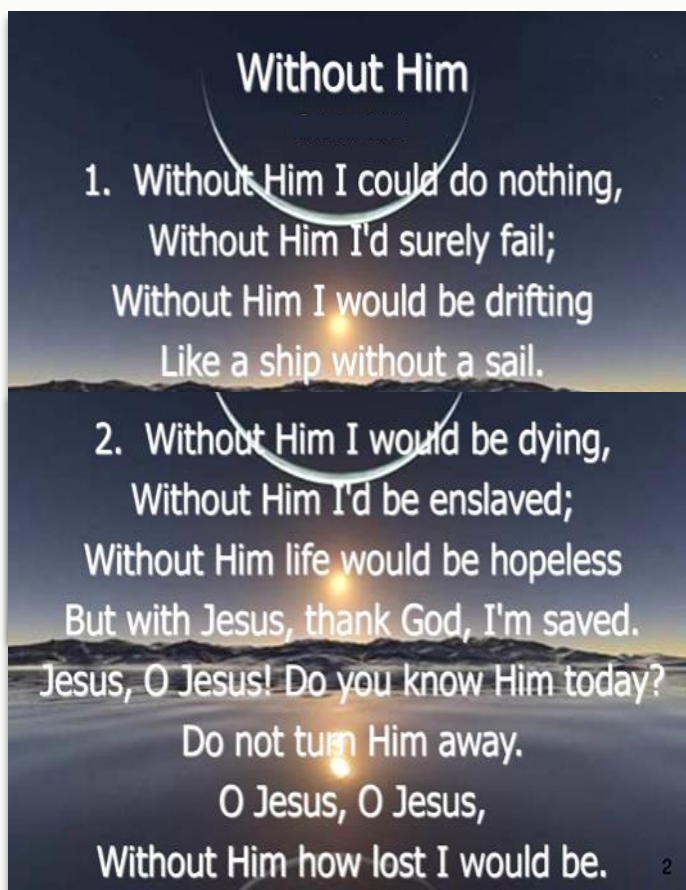

Frank Williams, LAM Fundraiser

It is said, by those who study such things, that a human dead body today is worth $550,000, assuming that all the body parts are in usable shape. You may get more if the deceased is a young person. A black market industry has arisen to harvest body parts from unsuspecting victims. The world we live in is fixated on the physical, the here and now. You seldom hear anyone talking about the soul and its value. The word "soul" is used several different ways in scripture. Here, I am referring to it as the spiritual essence of the human being. Both a soul and the physical body have its origin in the creative work of God. However, unlike the human body, the soul will live forever.

Consider the story, "The Rich Man and Lazarus," in Luke 16. Two men, two lifestyles, two deaths, and two eternal destinations. Like Paul in 1 Timothy, we can rejoice in the fact that Christ Jesus is our hope. I am reminded of the song, "Without Him," by Mylon LeFevre. Yes, without Jesus we are lost in our sins. But, there is someone, someone very special in all of our lives, that made sure we heard about Jesus and encouraged us to obey his commands.

Millions do not have that "someone" in their lives. Latin America, excluding Brazil, has a population of over 400 million people (souls) with very few Christians and fewer "someones." The Bible School of the Americas in Panama is focused on providing a "someone" who will share Jesus with all who will listen. Training these students and families for two years involves a significant financial investment. Covering all the expenses necessary to provide a premier education requires $1500 per month per student. There are 21 students enrolled in school this year requiring $31,500 per month. Donations for the first quarter of 2023 were below our monthly needs. The school needs your immediate attention.

Consider a one-time gift or a regular monthly donation. Please share this need with your congregation and ask them to help the Bible School of the Americas.

"Without Him, souls will be lost. Without preachers, they may never know. Without YOU, we shall surely fail!"

Agenor Rudas

Director, Bible School of the Americas

The Bible School of the Americas was founded thanks to the concern of brethren from the United States who came to work at the riverbanks of the Panama Canal when the Canal was managed by the U.S. Their concern was shown in those letters sent to congregations in the U.S. requesting financial support for this great project.

The central message of those letters was: "The Gospel must be preached by locals, and only through a Bible School will results be obtained in a short time." Today, almost sixty years later, we could ask, "How much has the Bible School and her graduates prevailed in the labor of the Church in Panama and Latin America?"

Open Your Eyes!

Many brethren have received training in the classrooms of the Bible School. Every year more brethren leave, convinced of the labor our Lord has given us (Matt. 18:19-20) and of the responsibility to continue forward with the work. Every graduate goes back to their country of origin with the enthusiasm to preach, helping the congregation where they came from, and others are longing to start new labors, which has happened. Ever since 1965 until now, some 300 congregations have been established. Some have disappeared for various reasons, but many remain active today.

From the classrooms, each student is taught from the Bible that they are to open their eyes and see that the fields are white for harvest. That was the message from Jesus to His disciples, indicating to them it was time to work, to harvest souls that would otherwise be lost day to day.

The Church in Palenque has baptized more than 100 men and women since it began in 2011.

The Word of God is preached for our congregation and at a Rehab Center in La Esperanza, on two radio stations, and on Facebook. We have evangelistic campaigns in July and a Bible Conference once a year in January. We collaborate with other congregations in Salto de Agua in Chiapas and San Vicente in Ocosingo with preaching, evangelism, and a radio program. We conduct an evangelism program throughout the year with congregations in Chiapas and Tabasco. We also support candidates going to BSA. Several have graduated while others are there now. Challenges include appointing elders and deacons and becoming able to financially support our ministers.

Our work with

LAM started in 2001 after our country suffered a devastating earthquake. The first Salvadoreans who graduated from BSA in Panama were Noel Umaña and Victor Bonilla and their families(2001-2002). For twenty years now, more Salvadoreans have been sent to Panama for training. We have seen many people be converted to the gospel and have fellowship in gatherings to edify ourselves, listening to the Word of God, and thanking Him in courage, faithfulness and love. LAM taught us to work together! Our current activities are working with other congregations and creating new projects together! The "Ministry Leaving Prints Project" is creating material for children based on the Holy Scripture with training seminars for new workers.

The Churches

of Christ in Costa Rica have many brethren who trained at BSA and serve as full-time preachers or contributing as faithful men in the labor of Christ. Rodrigo Gamboa serves in Siquirres, Limon as a preacher, teacher, and Elder. Roldan Chinchilla with his family labors locally in Sarchi and nationally. Vidal Ortega and Daniel Chaves work together in Buenos Aires in Puntarenas, having constructed a new building and collaborating various activities in the country. Ricardo Alvarado, Alan Monge, José A. García, Aycen Domínguez, Juan Jiménez, Ediberto Córdoba, serve full-time in their local congregations, bringing forth good fruits for the labor of our Lord Jesus Christ.

We are excited as we read how the seed of the gospel has been sown in many hearts of the Caribbean. Knowing that the work in the Lord is not in vain, Julio Mella is meeting with the church at Ensanche Espaillat in Santo Domingo. Joely Valdez is one of the ministers in Pueblo Nuevo Santiago. He works in evangelism, preaching, and Bible studies in other congregations.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The church in Honduras enjoys a close relationship with churches in the United States. In a recent survey carried out by LAM, Honduras is the second country with the highest number of preachers who receive financial support from congregations in the United States through LAM. That has increased many opportunities for the gospel in such a beautiful country. We are proud to work hand in hand with the team of preachers in Honduras and their families.

HONDURAS

NICARAGUA

The Church of Christ in Nicaragua is grateful to the elders in the U.S. for supporting BSA which has strengthened churches throughout with qualified preachers who edify the members with sound doctrine. We can report that 85% of our BSA graduates lead and serve in local labors. Nicaragua is blessed with a team of preachers who serve together in the different regions of the country. The great dynamics of our fellow soldiers of the cross has been exhibited even more with the many evangelistic campaigns carried on in different locations. Oh, how fantastic unity can be for the Kingdom of God!

The presence of BSA graduates in the labor in Panama is 59%.

The other 41% exists by the work of brethren who have BSA graduates and preach with what they've learned in their churches. Among this 41% some congregations have been abandoned by preachers who found themselves without the tools needed in a preacher. Faced with impossible circumstances, preachers leave the congregations adrift. In Darien, Chiriqui, Veraguas, and Cocolé there are several congregations without a preacher. A church building in El Copé was abandoned by her preacher five years ago. Now, the BSA is sending students with support received from brethren in Panama itself to reestablish the congregation.

Our brethren are built up in Discipleship Workshops, and our young boys participate in Future Ministers Training Camps. Radio programs reach out to those who desire Bible studies. A Teens National Conference brought in about 200 young people resulting in five baptisms. BSA alumni visit with church leaders to strengthen them in serving the Lord.

We also evangelize in surrounding countries.

Alberto Calderón is our key contact person who graduated from the Bible School of the Americas in Peru in 2007. He works with all his family at the Church of Christ in Callao. Currently, they have 55 attending on Sundays. Both men and women classes are held on Saturdays. As members are fed knowledge of the Bible, the church is growing with new baptisms. Our rental building has grown small, and we are in need of purchasing a larger one.

CHILE

Wilson Viloría

BSA has had a positive effect in our country where I serve and give support to several congregations. Since 2011 my family and I have been part of progress, both numerical and spiritual, in four different congregations starting in the south and moving north where we are currently. In 2020 a new labor began with only 12 members in the northern City of Antofagasta. In only two years God has helped us in our challenges, and we now have 35 faithful members. We plan for one more year to be a building block there for the glory of God. Another new congregation in Mejillones that is one hour away by bus has five faithful Christians. Pray for continued growth in Chile.

Facing Challenges Daily

Agenor Rudas, Director of Bible School of the Americas

Our students leave the Bible School of the Americas with the momentum to go and share the Words of God. Convinced of their responsibility and full of youthful vibrancy, they often find a reality that becomes a difficult barrier to overcome. The economy rises as a ferocious lion, threatening not only the graduate but also his family. Many graduates will seek secular jobs to support their families, and this weakens the labor in the Church.

When Jesus started His labor with the apostles, He also considered material needs. They had the need of a common moneybag to buy basic supplies. (John 13:29) On the other hand, when the labor began to expand, Jesus sent His disciples to labor without a moneybag or knapsack. When He asked them if they had lacked anything, they said, "No." The reason was, that for the Jews, it was a commandment to feed the wayfarer and the foreigner. However, they would soon be sent again with the command to take moneybag, knapsack, and a sword. Conditions were becoming critical.

Facing the needs of the disciples in order to continue their labor, men and women who supported Jesus' teaching willingly sold their possessions to help those who worked to carry the Gospel to other regions. Several grateful women helped furnish basic needs for Jesus and His disciples by cooking and cleaning. (Luke 8:3).

Paul also addressed the financial support for preachers when he told the Corinthians, "... those who proclaim the gospel should get their living by the gospel." Moreover, Paul also received financial support in some regions to continue preaching the Gospel. This is God's plan. The labor continues to grow today throughout Latin America. The challenges BSA graduates face are many, and we continue to depend on our All-Knowing God who uses men and women with tender hearts who love the labor of His servants. They generously provide support to those who graduate from the Bible School of the Americas ... Our Alumni.

...the gospel to the whole creation."

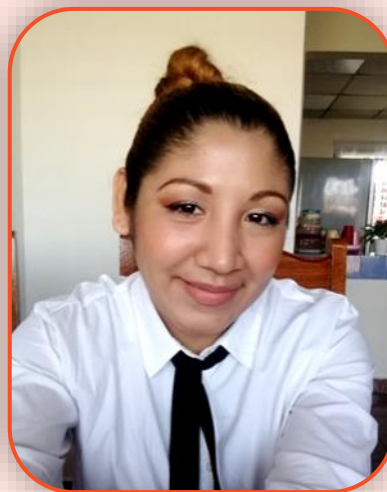

My heart fills with emotion for the opportunity to share these thoughts with you, dear readers. My name is Melissa Ochoa. I was a student at the Bible School of the Americas (BSA) and graduated in December 2022. I will share with you my personal experience at this great institution.

Receiving Bible training in Panama was a blessing to my family. I knew we would have the opportunity to know God better and grow closer to Him. From the first day on campus, I was surprised to find myself in a place full of so many spiritual and material blessings. It was wonderful to get to know the teachers, and my admiration for each one of them grew and grew as I got to know them better. I appreciated how they taught the classes with all that is humanly possible. Their love and dedication was shown in their job performance, and most of all, their love for God.

I can honestly say that I loved all the classes. They were beneficial for our learning. For example, the class on the books of Acts and James taught by our teacher, Rafael Paguaga, was one of my favorite ones. And, I have to mention the class, "The Preacher's Wife," taught by Sister Loida Cruz, wife of Minister and Director, Agenor Rudas. I want to clarify that all the classes were excellent, but those impacted me greatly.

All the training was suitable for the sisters. The classes gave us the necessary tools to work well in our congregations. The presentations we were assigned and shared with others were a challenge, but it was gratifying to go through them. For the first time ever, I was teaching classes. Each project was an opportunity for us to gain experience and give the best of ourselves.

Melissa Ochoa, Minister's Wife in Honduras

The chosen methods were excellent in gaining a better understanding and knowledge which goes hand in hand with the application. Why? There is no use in training if we do not apply the knowledge to our lives. As James 1:25 says, "But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing." At the BSA we are encouraged to not be only hearers, but doers of the learning.

Also vitally important is that these teachings continue to be given to the wives of the students, so they can be helpers "fit" for their husbands. We are to rightly handle the word of Truth. Training the women can only bring more efficacy and efficiency to the labor of the Lord. In the area of technology, there is a great need to provide more training to the sisters. We live in times when technology plays a huge role in our lives. It is necessary to be skillful in using this tool for the glory of God.

In conclusion, my experience with the training offered at the Bible School of the Americas is necessary and important. I am certain that because of my training, I am now better prepared to work alongside my husband at our congregation and be the wife that God wants me to be according to His word.
